

HEARING FAILS TO SETTLE RAIL STRIKE

DAY OF VERBAL JOCKEYING ENDS

"Satisfactory Settlement" Only Can Prevent Men Walking Out, Unions Reiterate

RAPS LABOR BOARD

W. S. Stone, Engineers' Chief, Charges It Is Not Giving Men Fair Hearing

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Executives of the Big Four brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union of North America, after a day of verbal jockeying with the United States Railroad Labor Board, declared late today that no power on earth save a "satisfactory settlement" can prevent their men walking out beginning next Sunday morning at 6 o'clock.

Their declaration came at the close of a day of fruitless questioning when Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the labor board, called each union president in turn and asked him four prepared questions, the third of which was: "If the board shall declare a strike is not justified and should not occur and direct that the employees not strike, will that order be obeyed?"

quent clashes between members of the board and Mr. Stone. The engineers' grand chief charged Chairman Barton was not giving the unions a fair hearing after he had attempted to introduce the names of seven roads which, he said, violated orders of the board. The chair ruled against the evidence.

"It is not our purpose to sit here and listen to discussions going back into the history of other decisions or the merits of decisions that we have rendered," the chairman said. "If you want to be heard on that, you may be heard at another time and place."

"I want to call your attention to the fact that Mr. Hooper finished asking that identical question of Mr. Sheppard after Mr. Sheppard replied to it," Mr. Stone retorted.

Why Men Are "Scow"

"Violations of schedules by these different roads has been going on for months, and that has led up to the frame of mind that you find these men whom I represent in."

"If we cannot find redress in this board, then I want to know where the 80,000 engineers can find relief. If we are to be prohibited explaining the feeling of our men, then I do not see that there is anything more for me to say."

Mr. Stone finally was permitted to read the names of the seven roads. The first two were the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic and the Missouri and North Arkansas, both of which are in the hands of receivers.

"Don't you know our decisions were overruled by the federal courts on those roads?" Chairman Barton and Mr. Hooper interrupted in unison.

"Then, to carry it to a logical conclusion, all a road needs to do is to go into a receiver's hands and the transportation act is null and void," Mr. Stone replied.

The other five roads named by Mr. Stone as violating the board's decisions were the Denver and Salt Lake, Arizona and New Mexico, Nevada Northern, Detroit and Mackinack, and Peoria railway terminal.

Mr. Stone then attempted to read a list of 33 roads on which he said wage reductions had been put in effect in violation of the transportation act, but Chairman Barton interrupted with the observation that they were all short lines and not parties in the present dispute.

"They are under the jurisdiction of this board, however," Mr. Stone retorted.

"Anyway, as I understand it, the trend of your argument is criticism of the board," said Mr. Barton. Stone replied, "I said nothing of the kind. I said the action of the carriers had inflamed the minds of the men, as the result of which the strongest strike vote ever polled by this organization was had. That is what I meant to infer."

No Results at Day Hearing.

By adjournment time this afternoon the board had finished its questioning of the union leaders.

The union chiefs, Warren S. Stone of the engineers, W. G. Lee of the trainmen, L. E. Sheppard of the conductors, W. S. Carter of the firemen and T. C. Cashen of the switchmen, declared in turn they had no power to cancel the strike order, expressed the individual opinion that their men would not obey an order from them to the board to remain at work, and reiterated their previous declaration that only a "satisfactory settlement" could avert the walk-out.

Such a settlement they said would be reconsideration by the labor board of its 12 per cent wage reduction order of last July 1, or a movement by the individual railroads to confer with the unions and set aside the board's order.

Mr. Carter declared a settlement should also reimburse the men for their pay lost since July 1 as a result of the wage cut.

The other three questions asked the leaders were:

"Who, or what authority in your labor organization, can withdraw the order to strike or stop a strike?"

"Suppose you, the chief of your organization, or your executive committee, issued an order or a statement that a strike should not occur, do you believe the strike could be prevented?"

"Will you, as chief executive, use your power and influence to see that the orders of the board on the matter be obeyed?"

Injunction Proceedings Probable.

That the government contemplates injunction proceedings against the unions for violation of the transportation act was indicated by the trend of questioning conducted by Ben W. Hooper, representative of the public on the board.

Mr. Hooper sought throughout his questioning of the five union leaders to bring out that their strike order was not only in defiance of the July wage cut decision but, by including other and unsettled questions, violated the part of the transportation act which says all disputes "shall" be referred to the board first for settlement.

Mr. Lee, of the trainmen, said his organization's belief was based solely on the July 1 wage cut, and declared he had withdrawn from the brotherhoods' joint meeting and refused to subscribe to their ballot. The language of the joint ballot, he said, implied other questions were involved.

The other leaders deflected the joint ballot. And asserted that the other questions referred to all had a bearing on the frame of mind which led the employees to vote for a strike.

The question of time and one-half for overtime, and of a general revision of schedules were included in the discussion preceding the strike questions proper on both the joint ballot and that of the trainmen, they said. While all the union chiefs maintained that the strike question was technically taken on the July wage cut, all admitted that the other questions would probably figure in any settlement leading to calling off the strike.

Questioning of the union leaders brought out that a vote against the strike had been returned on 22 roads by the conductors, 14 roads by the trainmen, and on three roads by the firemen. Mr. Cashen said the switchmen on every system voted in favor of striking. Mr. Stone, after a heated protest against furnishing the information "to his enemies," agreed to obtain it from his office in Cleveland.

The hearing was marked by fre-quencing of the chief executives and the railroad representatives were on the program for the evening session, beginning at 7 o'clock.

After the day hearing, Mr. Cashen, in a statement to a newspaper man, said:

"Nothing transpired at the day meeting to change the situation so far as the settlement is concerned."

It was decided the board announced at the beginning of the night session, that no further representatives of the unions would be called upon to testify. Mr. Hooper announced that the board considered it had sufficient information from the labor chiefs, although they might be recalled for some additional questioning.

T. Denitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, as spokesman for the rail officials, then presented a summary of events leading to the present crisis, so far as the railway executives were concerned.

Mr. Hooper inquired if any road intended to make any change in wages without taking the matter to the board.

"No, sir," Mr. Cuyler answered.

"Has any change in rules or wages been put into effect in any class of employees without bringing it to this board or by agreement with its employees?" Mr. Hooper asked, directing this question to the executives generally.

Admits Independent Action.

B. A. Worthington, president of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western, said he had.

"In the latter part of June, we gave notice to the four brotherhoods that we would like a conference as to working conditions," he said. "The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen's committee responded but we were unable to reach an agreement when the committee was authorized by its chief executive to stop such negotiations."

"On August 1, we discontinued payment of time and one-half for overtime. We suggested that, after the conference, if any controversy arose, we would take the dispute to your board. If the board decides that question against us, we will pay back from August 1, when the change went into effect."

"When a road makes a change like that, doesn't it encourage defiance of the board's decisions?" asked Mr. Hooper.

"It didn't occur to me that this change might violate any board decision because a 30-day notice had been given," Mr. Worthington replied.

Mr. Hooper then asked Mr. Worthington if he would be willing to rescind his order pending the board's decision, and Mr. Worthington said he would.

"That is a fine example to set," Mr. Hooper exclaimed.

"While that feeling is rampant," Mr. Stone interjected, "may I read a list of 33 roads which are in the same boat?"

He was permitted to read his list, which consisted of but short lines.

U. S. MAKES LAST ATTEMPT TODAY

Labor Board Arranges Conference of All Union Officials for This Morning

ASKS POSTPONEMENT

Board Will Urge Men Delay Action Until After Wage and Working Rules Decisions

(By The Associated Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 26.—The government will make its final attempt to prevent the threatened general railroad strike tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock when president, general chairmen and executive committees of the five train service unions meet here at a conference reported to have been arranged at the instigation of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The board's investigation of the strike threat ended abruptly at 8:30 tonight when the five union leaders asked permission to make the announcement to their men.

Board to Give Decision.

"The board will take everything in its careful consideration," Chairman Barton announced in adjourning the hearing, "and will, within a very short time, possibly tomorrow, certainly no later than the next day, deliver its decision in this matter in the usual way."

Union leaders tonight said that the meeting tomorrow had been called at the suggestion of Ben W. Hooper, vice chairman of the board, and that they expected him to personally present a final proposition from the board. Mr. Hooper refused to confirm or deny this. Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, said that its decision on today's hearing might be rendered tomorrow and certainly would be forthcoming by the next day.

Each of the presidents of the five transportation group unions said, however, that the prospects for a settlement "certainly were no better than they were this morning," while two went further, declaring that "the clouds are darker than ever."

It was understood that the board would make the following proposal to the unions tomorrow:

That the unions suspend or call off the strike ordered for next Sunday and based on the wage cut made last July 1, pending decisions by the board on further wage cuts or on any revision of rules which the employees fear the roads will ask. The roads have already announced their intention of seeking a ten per cent wage cut for the train service in addition to the 12 per cent slash of last July. Many roads have indicated a desire to abrogate time and a half for overtime also.

Hearing Ends Abruptly.

The unexpected ending of the board's hearing tonight after a little more than an hour had been devoted to taking testimony of the railroad side followed a series of whispered conversations among the union leaders.

W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen, asked permission to make an announcement to his members. He called them to meet here at 9 o'clock tomorrow. Warren S. Stone of the engineers, L. E. Sheppard of the conductors, W. S. Carter of the firemen, and T. C. Cashen of the switchmen, made similar announcements, and after a brief statement from Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the Labor board, to the effect that the board's decision as to whether the unions had violated the July 1 wage cut order, would be handed down either tomorrow or Friday, the meeting was adjourned.

Whether the proposal which the board is expected to make tomorrow can prevent the strike was a question no union official would comment on. Throughout the hearing today, they reiterated their previous declarations that they could not call off the strike unless "a satisfactory settlement" was reached, and they defined such a settlement as recognition of the wage cut of July 1, payment of the wages they have lost as the result of that cut, and a promise by the roads not to seek further wage reductions or changes in rules for a stated period.

Board members declined to comment on the meeting to be held tomorrow, but others pointed out that the general chairmen, grand officers and executive committees who will be in attendance, have the power to call off the strike without reference to any other body.

Throughout the hearing today, Mr. Hooper, chairman of the board's judiciary committee, developed in his examination of the union presidents that fear of future wage cuts or rule changes was the impelling motive behind the overwhelming strike majority, rather than opposition to the 12 per cent wage reduction of last July. Each president declared he did not accept the wage cut, but that it alone would probably not have been enough to cause a strike.

CEASE ENMITY, HARDING TELLS WHITES, BLACKS

Nation Must Courageously Face Permanent Solution of the Race Problem

EDUCATION THE KEY

Black Man Should Be Encouraged to Be Best Possible Black Man, He Says

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 26.—North and South whites and blacks, were admonished by President Harding here today to put aside old prejudices and pretences and set the face of the nation courageously toward a constructive and permanent solution of the race problem.

In a sweeping presentation of his views, which was received with varying manifestations of emotion by a crowd of several thousand whites and negroes, the President declared social equality between the races must not be considered a possibility but that the black man must have an increased political, economical and educational opportunities if the American nation is to live true to its traditions of democracy.

The address, one of five delivered here by the President during a day's visit to the Birmingham semi-centennial celebration, was driven home with vigorous gestures and deliberate utterances such as Mr. Harding seldom has employed since he became chief executive. He spoke with a manifest determination to drive his shafts to the heart of racial disagreements and to make the pronouncement one of the most plain spoken of his administration.

Varying Emotions Among Crowd.

The crowd before whom he appeared kept up a hub-bub which made his declarations inaudible to all but those who were close by. Repeated bits of cheering swept the segregated sections allotted to the negroes as they caught portions of the speech relating to political and economic opportunities. In the white section there were occasional ripples of applause as the significance of a phrase here and there was realized and pondered by those near the speaker.

In other parts of the city, during a day crowded with events of many varieties, Mr. Harding was received with a succession of intensive demonstrations.

These are some of the principles on which the President appealed to the nation "to lay aside old prejudices and old antagonisms" and give support to a constructive policy of racial relationship:

"Politically and economically there need be no occasion for great and permanent differences, provided on both sides there shall be recognition of the absolute divergence in things social and racial."

"I would say let the black man vote when he is fit to vote; prohibit the white man voting when he is unfit to vote."

"I wish that both the tradition of a solidly Democratic south and the tradition of a solidly Republican black race might be broken up."

"I would insist upon equal educational opportunity for both."

"Men of both races may well stand uncompromisingly against every suggestion of social equality. This is not a question of social equality, but a question of recognizing a fundamental, eternal, inescapable difference."

"Racial amalgamation there cannot be. Partnership of the races in developing the highest aims of all humanity there must be. If humanity is to achieve the ends which we have set for it."

"The black man should seek to be, and he should be encouraged to be, the best possible black man and not the best possible imitation of a white man."

Black Cannot Be White.

In conclusion, the President said:

"I would accept that a black man cannot be a white man, and that he does not need and should not aspire to be as much like a white man as possible in order to accomplish his life's purpose. He should seek to be the best possible black man and not the best possible imitation of a white man."

"It is a matter of the keenest national concern that the south shall not be encouraged to make its colored population a vast reservoir of ignorance, to be drained away by the processes of migration into all other sections. That is what has been going on in recent years at a rate as accelerated that it has caused this question of races to be, as I have already said, no longer one of a particular section, but as I do not wish the south to be politically entirely one party; just as I believe that it is bad for the south and for the rest of the country as well, so I do not want the colored people to be entirely of one party. I wish that both the tradition of a solidly Democratic south, and the tradition of a solidly Republican black race might be broken up. Neither political sectionalism nor any system of racial groupings of the people will in the long run prosper our country."

Every consideration, it seems to me, brings us back at last to the question of education. When I speak of education as a part of this race question I do not want the states or the nation to attempt to educate people, whether white or black, into something they are not fitted to be. I have no sympathy with the half-baked altruism that would overlook us with doctors and lawyers of whatever color, and leave us in need of people in a workaday world. But I would like to

PRIEST FOUND WITH BULLET THROUGH HEART

South Dakota Priest Lured to Death on Pretext of Administering Last Rites

POSSES ORGANIZED

Murder Closely Resembles Killing of Father Heslin in California

Lead, S. D., Oct. 26.—The body of Father A. B. Belknap, rector of St. Patrick's cathedral here, was found today on "Poor Man's Gulch" highway near the city limits of Lead. A bullet from a large calibre revolver had pierced his heart. The priest had been lured to his death by a man who a few minutes before had asked him to administer the last sacraments of the church to a sick man.

Tonight, the authorities of Lead were without a clue to the identity of the slayer. Bloodhounds were on the way from Mitchell, S. D., and when they arrive, search for the murderer will start. Throughout the Black Hills, scores of men were ready tonight to organize posses.

It was about 3:15 o'clock this morning when a man rang the bell at the door of Bishop J. J. Lawler's residence, where Father Belknap lived. The young priest answered the call. Father Thomas Hohen and Father Belknap's parents, also living in the Lawler home, heard a man ask Father Belknap to come with him to the home of a sick friend who was about to die and who desired the sacrament of extreme unction administered.

Last Seen of Priest.

Father Belknap went to his garage to get his automobile. His visitor accompanied him. The starter on the car would not work and the pair left about 4 o'clock.

That was the last the occupants of the bishop's house heard of the priest until his dead body was found half an hour later. It lay in the roadway, face downward. A large bruise on the back of the priest's head indicated he had been struck from behind with a blunt instrument.

Residents of the vicinity told the police they had heard shots. Bishop Lawler declared tonight Father Belknap had no enemies and never had received any threats. No descriptions of the man who called for the priest were obtainable, authorities said.

An examination of Father Belknap's automobile indicated it had been tampered with, according to his friends, a switch connecting the starter having been removed.

The killing resembles the murder of Father Patrick E. L. Heslin of Columbia, Mo., who was lured from his home August 12 last, and whose body was found later buried in the same manner.

The Rev. Father Belknap was about 33 years old and was a native of Dubuque, Iowa. He was graduated from Dubuque college and from St. Mary's at Baltimore, Md. Father Belknap was ordained in 1917 and entered upon his work as a parish priest of Lead on January 11, 1921. He was popular not only with Catholics but with people of the city generally. Lead is the seat of a Catholic diocese.

TODAY DEDICATED TO ROOSEVELT MEMORY

Little Oyster Bay Bows Head in Sorrow as It Thinks of Big-Hearted "Teddy"

Oyster Bay, Oct. 26.—(By The Associated Press.)—Residents of this little hamlet tomorrow will bow their heads in sorrowful memory of a beloved fellow villager.

While the rest of the nation has dedicated the day to the rebelling of the day, the anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt, statesman, President and man of letters, Oyster Bay remembers the familiar, sympathetic, big-hearted "Teddy," whose grave on the hill-top is an ever present reminder of their loss.

The little wooded cemetery has become the object of pilgrimages from all over the world and thousands are looked for tomorrow.

Among them are expected hundreds of former friends and thousands of admirers, besides formal delegations of Spanish and World War veterans of the Boy Scouts of America. They will come, for the most part, to lay flowers or flags on the grave, while diplomats from foreign countries will bring testimonials of respect from their governments and peoples abroad.

But old-time neighbors and intimates of the Colonel say that of all tributes to his memory, he himself would most have appreciated those of the children whom he loved and so the children will be the part of paying honors in the name of Oyster Bay.

The older children of Oyster Bay Cove school, which nestles in a grove of trees a few hundred yards from Roosevelt's grave, remember him best as the Santa Claus of their annual Christmas celebrations. Some of them now sit in the seats and use the desks now occupied by the older Roosevelt children, Kermit, Theodore, Archie and Ethel. None of these have forgotten the red, pillow-fattened figure, rose cheeks, powdered mustache and grotesque false beard of the principal actor in their Yuletide pageant.

Three weeks before Christmas it was Colonel Roosevelt's custom to summon the teachers to Saranac, Ill., a mile away, and there instruct them to have all the children write letters to "Santa," telling what they wanted him to bring them. Then, after all the scribbled requests had come in, the Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt would go in to New York and buy the gifts asked for, adding to each child a note of recognition. From the gifts asked for, adding to each child a note of recognition. From the gifts asked for, adding to each child a note of recognition.

PHIL O'DOWD WINS OVER JOE LYNCH

Columbus Pugilist Displays Cleverness That Former Champ Is Unable to Fathom

New York, Oct. 26.—Phil O'Dowd of Columbus, Ohio, tonight was awarded the judges' decision after a 12-round bout with Joe Lynch, former bantamweight champion.

It was Lynch's first fight since his defeat by Pete Herman in Brooklyn last summer. O'Dowd, who was making his first pugilistic appearance in New York, displayed a cleverness that Lynch was unable to fathom.

O'Dowd used his left to advantage throughout the contest and won eight of the 12 rounds. Lynch had the better of two of the rounds and the bout was even in the other two. The fighting was fast throughout.

Lynch pushed O'Dowd to the floor in the fifth round with an exchange of body blows. O'Dowd took the count of nine and then came back at Lynch so furiously that he had him groggy at the bell.

In the sixth round, O'Dowd had Lynch near a knock-out after two hard rights to the jaw, Lynch staggering to his corner when the bell rang.

In the last three rounds, Lynch tried to stage a come-back, but O'Dowd fabled at him at will and prevented any rally. O'Dowd weighed in at 113½ and Lynch at 122. Lynch had hoped to defeat O'Dowd so as to get another chance at the bantamweight championship now held by Johnny Buff of Jersey City.

MISSOURI ROADS ORDERED TO CUT HAY-GRAIN RATES

Jefferson City, Oct. 26.—An order directing the railroads of Missouri to make an estimate reduction of $2,607,500 in grain products and hay rates based upon this year's crop was issued today by the state public service commission. The order becomes effective November 9.

Roosevelt would drive over to the school, where, under a great elm tree, he would distribute the presents to 40 or more youngsters and then join in singing carols and romping and laughing with the spirit of play that the little children were old enough to go to school, he missed playing Santa Claus but twice—once when he was in Africa and again during his illness at Roosevelt house.

WHO WILL WIN RACE ACROSS OCEAN, FOCH OR PERSHING?

New York, Oct. 26.—Officials of the American Legion are on the anxious seat to learn that Marshal Foch of France will beat General Pershing to America. They sent a wireless message today to the winners of the steamship George Washington, urging them to do their utmost to get the vessel here in time to allow the American commander to greet the generalissimo of Allied armies when the latter steps from the steamship Paris, both vessels are due about 1 p. m. Friday.

The George Washington left Cherbourg last Thursday, while the Paris, a faster ship, departed from Havre last Saturday. Wireless advices have indicated that the Paris may get here first, thus upsetting the plan for the Legion for General Pershing to be the first to grasp the marshal's hand.

REPEAL OF PROFITS TAX MADE CERTAIN

Senate Approves Its Collection Only During This Calendar Year

Washington, Oct. 26.—Final of the excess profits tax as of next January 1 was made certain today with the adoption by the senate without a recorded vote of a motion in the tax revision bill providing only for its collection this calendar year. The provision admits is a substitute for the excess profits section of the existing law.

Before accepting the provisions in the bill, the senate voted down, 42 to 1, an amendment by Senator Reed, proposing that for 1921 and thereafter the excess profits tax be 20 per cent on the net income of corporations between 15 per cent and 50 per cent of the invested capital and 40 per cent on the net income in excess of 50 per cent. Six Republicans joined with the solid Democratic majority in supporting the amendment.

Having disposed of the excess profits section of the bill, the senate proceeded to consideration of the corporation income tax section and under amendments proposed by the Finance committee, as a result of the unanimous agreement of the Republicans held in abeyance their plan to force a continuous session and the senate adjourned at 5:20 p. m. until 11 a. m. tomorrow.

DR. PILGRIM RESIGNS AFTER LONG SERVICE

Chairman of State Hospital Commission to Devote Time to Personal Interests

Albany, Oct. 26.—The resignation of Charles W. Pilgrim, M. D., of Central Valley, Orange county, chairman of the State Hospital commission, was announced last night. The resignation will be effective December 12.

Dr. Pilgrim, in a letter to the governor, said that after devoting his entire professional life of nearly 40 years to the care of the insane, and in view of the restoration of "something like pre-war conditions" in the state hospital service, he felt he might properly request to be relieved of his duties to be able to give more time to his personal affairs.

Governor Miller replied that the "splendid care" which the mentally afflicted in the insane hospitals are now receiving and the "generally admirable manner in which these institutions are being conducted" constituted the highest evidence of Dr. Pilgrim's many years of loyal devotion to the service. "You have certainly earned the right now to consider your personal interests," the governor said.

AMERICA'S UNKNOWN HERO STARTS HIS JOURNEY HOME

By The Associated Press.

Havre, Oct. 25.—America's unknown soldier is on his way home. After resting nearly three years in the land where he fought and died, he began his homeward journey on the United States cruiser Olympia this afternoon.

France, the country where this unknown soldier fell, is not to be forgotten at Arlington, as the symbol of the lost American dead will rest on French soil in the American national cemetery. The Olympia carries a large box full of the soil of France, enough to cover the bottom of the unknown soldier's grave.

Simply marked the departure of the unknown warrior.

SPARTANS ARE VICTORIOUS

International Bowling Match At "Y" Results in Defeat for Garibaldis—Greeks Defend the Flag and Then Some.

The Italian-Americans are wearing a crest today and their grief is inconsolable. The Garibaldi bowling team, the pride of every Oneonta who traces his ancestry back to sunny Italy, was defeated last evening on the "Y" alleys by the Spartans, sons of fighting Greece. True in fighting spirit to the memory of their forefathers who fell defending the pass of Thermopylae, the Spartans not only held off the Garibaldi host but walked right into their midst and grabbed the spoils. Two games out of three, the count.

Several weeks ago the Garibaldis challenged the Spartans to a bowling match, the losers to furnish the feed. Last night's international battle was the outcome of the challenge. The Garibaldis knew not whom they challenged and as a result are today chastened in spirit and lighter of pocketbook.

Lambros was the high man with two 200 games and a total pinage of 579. Georgeen pressed him hard for first honors, also having a duo of 250 games with a total mark of 571. Mathews starred for the losers.

The game was one of the most enjoyable to witness that has been rolled on the "Y" alleys in some time. The members of both teams were on their mettle and out to win by any fair means. Much goodnatured joshing and bantering ensued to the evident enjoyment of the spectators. The Garibaldis were badly defeated, but they took their setback in a sportsmanlike manner and had only words of praise for the work of their opponents.

MARKET WAS DULL AND INCONCLUSIVE

Proceedings of Labor Board Followed With Interest — Oils Show Best Improvement

New York, Oct. 26.—A part from speculative issues, especially oils, in which recent gains were enhanced, today's stock market was dull and inconclusive.

The proceedings of the Railroad Labor board hearing were followed with unusual interest, and railway shares, including several of the more popular investment issues, developed more reactionary tendencies.

Firmness of money rates probably accounted for the less aggressive tactics of bull pools. Call loans opened at six per cent, the week's highest initial rate, but relaxed to 5½ in the last half of the session. In private negotiations, brokers reported loans of this class at five per cent.

The cheaper oils were most favored and motors of the same type also moved forward, although trade advices respecting this industry were not especially favorable. Food, leather, rubber and some of the independent steels displayed intermittent firmness, but United States Steel fluctuated within the narrowest limits, making no visible response to yesterday's quarterly report.

Equipments showed mixed gains and losses and coppers and tobaccos were susceptible to pressure. Chemical, fertilizer and chain store issues were among the firmer miscellaneous stocks. Selling of Mexican Petroleum contributed to the irregular shares. Sales amounted to $50,000.

Confusion marked the day's trading in foreign exchanges, which was attended by circumstantial rumors dealing with proposed revision of German reparations payments. Sterling was easier, as were also the French and Belgian rates. Central European rates reflected latest adverse developments in that section, and Far Eastern bills rallied from recent heaviness.

Liberty issues closed mostly at gains, and the general domestic list was steady to firm on lighter dealings. Foreign bonds showed no pronounced trend, except Mexican government 4s, which again were affected by latest phases of that country's external obligations.

Wilson's Opinion of Roosevelt:

"Yes, he's a great big boy. I was indeed charmed by his personality. There is a sweetness about him that is very compelling. You can't resist the man. I can easily understand why his followers are so fond of him."

—From Joseph P. Tumulty's "Woodrow Wilson as I Know Him," to be published serially in The New York Times, beginning Next Sunday.

Among the many controversies over Woodrow Wilson's public life, none has been argued more bitterly than the question, "Why weren't Colonel Roosevelt and General Wood permitted to go to France?" Mr. Tumulty tells the inside story for the first time. The President was inclined to let both men go overseas, but he would not override the General Staff or General Pershing.

Another subject of dispute has been the relationship of Mr. Wilson to his campaign manager, William F. McCombs.

The recently published book by the late Mr. McCombs was a bitter attack. Mr. Tumulty now tells what he knows about it. Nothing in American history and biography equal to the Tumulty story has appeared since Nicolay and Hay's Life of Lincoln.

For the exclusive newspaper rights to Mr. Tumulty's work in the Middle Atlantic States, The New York Times has paid the highest price ever paid for such a publication.

In the first instalment, next Sunday, will appear the chapter on Colonel Roosevelt and General Wood, and the chapter on Mr. McCombs.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION
Large Otsego County Gathering Held Tuesday at Laurens.

The Otsego County Sunday School association held its annual meeting Tuesday at the Methodist Episcopal church in Laurens. There was a large attendance, 151 registering as delegates from the churches and schools of the county. The morning session opened with devotional exercises by Rev. D. E. Myers of Mt. Vision, followed by singing led by Rev. L. B. Durin of Schenectady, and an appropriate address of welcome by E. J. Irish of Laurens. The response was made by Rev. C. B. Henry of Worcester, president of the association. Rev. G. A. Merry of the Sidney Baptist church was then introduced. He gave an interesting address on "The Supreme Task of the Bible School," which he held to be the salvation of the child. The address was followed by appointment of committees for the year, after which luncheon was served in the church parlors. At the afternoon session Mr. Durin effectively rendered "Teach Me to Pray" as a solo. Prof. T. B. Burgess of the State department at Albany gave an address answering the query, "What is a Good Sunday School?" which he said should have five up-standing points: Outreach, spirit of brotherhood, internal development, learning by action, and best cooperation. He congratulated the Laurens Methodist Episcopal school on its success in winning a full efficiency chart and urged all Otsego schools to strive to attain the same high standard. Rev. R. E. Austin then gave an inspirational talk on the possibilities of the interdenominational meetings at Sidney grove, and remarks were also made by Rev. P. M. Luther, the superintendent, and by Prof. Burgess. Reports of the various county officers were then read and W. L. Dudley of Oneonta spoke on the "Near-East Relief." Election of officers was held, resulting as follows: President—Rev. LeRoy Halbert of Cooperstown. Vice-President—Rev. A. H. Wood-ward of Edmeston. Treasurer—W. A. Holley of Oneonta. Luther conducted the devotions and a business session followed, after which there were addresses on various phases of Sunday school work by Rev. G. D. Merry and Prof. Burgess, after which the convention closed with the singing of the doxology. During the day the church was crowded to capacity, chairs being placed in the aisles; and the superintendent stated that it was the best and largest county convention that it has been his privilege to attend.

AN ACCIDENT WORTH WHILE.

It has been said that no matter what anybody paid anywhere for real estate 40 or 50 years ago, it had surely yielded him a substantial profit if only he kept it long enough. In the period passed there have been numerous fluctuations, and some of them extreme, but in general the statement is true, that the realty worth as much today as ever it was, and in most instances much more. It is in the case of certain abandoned farm lands, it is not true, the reason is not in the general condition but generally in some form of neglect for which the owner is responsible.

Alaska, at the time of its purchase
from Russia, was by some called Seward's folly and by some an accident. In any event, the purchase was made at an enormous cost, and the expense incurred by her during the war of the Rebellion, when her fleet—big for those days—lay in the harbor of New York as menace and warning to the British should the fleet of that nation invade our shores. The fleet was at that time a costly and worthless drain upon the resources of Russia, and to let the territory go was apparently a good business stroke on the part of the Russian diplomats,
while at the same time it permitted
the United States not too ostentatiously
to pay a debt.

So came the accident of Alaskan acquisition, ridiculed at home and disregarded abroad. A complete story of the years during which she proved her importance, alike through her agricultural products, her metals and minerals, her furs and her fisheries,
would require far too much space,
but as a single instance it may be noted that during the year 1918, in which only a few complete returns available,
the sock-eye salmon, which were netted, represented a value in the whole sale market of over $20,000,000. Yet
the salmon is only one part of her fisheries, the sock-eye only one variety of salmon and those canned only a part of the entire production of that variety. Still the value of this part of the canned output of a single variety was three times as much as Seward paid for the whole great territory. If an accident, the purchase of Alaska was certainly one worth while.

WHEN THE STRIKE COMES.

In the event of a nation-wide railroad strike and the tie-up of transportation for a considerable period,
the cost of all kinds of wood products from furniture to baseball bats would have its quickest and most extreme increases in the states where lumber is scarcest and where the source of supply is most remote.

Only five states are producing timber in excess of their needs and none of them are on the Atlantic seaboard.
The eastern and especially the northeastern states, where the consumption of wood is greatest and where the distances to the country's timber supply is longest, would suffer most.

Less than five per cent of our virgin forest is located in the northeast section of the United States. Thirty-three states are unable to supply their agricultural industrial needs for wood.
New York is producing only one-tenth of the amount of lumber she is using
and the total consumption of all kinds of wood per capita would make the difference still greater between the ratio of supply and consumption. The present lumber production of Pennsylvania is not sufficient to meet the needs of the Pittsburgh district alone.

Already we depend on Oregon,
Washington and California for certain species of timber as substitutes for our devastated trees, while the nearest supply of yellow pine is in the southern states—a source of replenishment that according to careful estimates will be exhausted in ten years. So a nation-wide railroad strike would result not only in a problem of furnishing food for the people but a lumber problem would also arise;
while 2,000,000 acres in Massachusetts,
more than half her area, ought to be producing profitable forest;
while 12,000,000 acres in New York
and an area nearly as large in Pennsylvania with relative proportions of idle land in most of the northeastern states, should be either reforested or placed under forest management.

COURT HERE NOV. 2.

Justice Tuthill Returns to Try Three Cases at Chambers in Oneonta.

Justice Theodore R. Tuthill of Binghamton, who has been presiding at the term of court at Cooperstown was in the city yesterday on his way home.
He returns to Oneonta on Wednesday,
Nov. 2, to hear at least three cases which were set down for trial at Chambers in Oneonta. The cases set for hearing here are Carmel Moore vs.
John S. Smith, a negligence case arising from a motor car accident; Thomas J. Frery of Skaneateles vs. the D. & B. company, for damages and an injunction; Joseph Banca and another vs. Angelo Ross.

Justice Tuthill is proving in every way a most efficient and considerate judge and Otsego county is delighted because to an extent it looks upon him
as one of her sons. His grandfather and father were born in this county and his ancestors having settled near Schenevus in the town of Maryland and there still remains a bridge in that town known as Tuthill's bridge.
Judge Tuthill is well versed on Otsego county history and yesterday was giving a second reading to Paul Bra-sall's history of Cooperstown during his railroad journey to his home.

Illustrative of his desire to clearly understand and justly determine all cases is the fact that after hearing the case of Dorn vs. Stocking on Tuesday,
an action involving right to the water

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Paper Money Declining.

In Congress and out of it there appears occasional denunciations of the government or of the reserve banking system because there is constant deflation of our paper currency. The fact is undoubted. The current report shows that there is in existence now almost a billion dollar loss in federal reserve currency than a year ago.
The reason is simple. It is because people are paying their debts. If congress or the agricultural bloc or any other men or institutions can keep the American people from paying off their obligations it is certain the deflation of the currency will stop. Do we want people to remain in debt and inflation to continue? The question answers itself.—[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

A Party Necessity.

One of the most foolish ideas which have been expressed regarding the coming disincorporation conference is that President Harding and the Republican leaders have no great desire to accomplish results. Curiously enough, this accusation is made by the very ones who charge Republicans with being too "practical." The most simple mind can appreciate the fact that to call the conference and then have it fail would be a damaging blow to the administration. Hence the only reasonable conclusion is that the Republicans, if for "practical" and partisan reasons alone, sincerely want the conference to succeed.—[Worcester
Telegraph.]

Canadian Attraction.

Of course, it is not incumbent upon us to explain why the cities and towns of the Province of Quebec seem more than ordinarily attractive to Americans the present season. We have
"dilated" upon the beauties and pic-turesqueness of portions of Canada,
but it is difficult to believe there are the reasons why Americans are lingering so long in Quebec. Those same charms were there in other years, and yet they did not detain visitors much beyond the usual time for their departure southward, so that an explanation must be sought elsewhere. The fact that Quebec is practically the only Province of the Dominion that combines a reasonable degree of "moisture" with beautiful scenery and romantic associations may explain why her tourists are prolonging their stay
beyond the usual time.—[New York Times.]

Rumor Says: "All For One."

"Doug and Mary will sell their California home and live half of each year in Paris, hereafter. Now look at what being 'Dartagnan' has done to the fellow!"—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

The Mails Will Move.

"The mails will be moved," says
Postmaster General Hays. President
Grover Cleveland made a similar remark on a certain memorable occasion—and the mails were moved.—

Our Poor Waiters.

An American never realizes fully how poor a lot of waiters there are in the hotels and restaurants of the United States until he goes to Canada
and is served by a trained servant
in one of the hotels or dining cars of the Canadian Pacific railway.

The Canadian waiter is trained for his business; the American waiter is not.

Just as far superior to the American waiter as is the Canadian, so is the highclass Canadian hotel superior to the American hotel.—"Men and Business," in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

DISSENSION IN LEAGUE RANKS

NOT ALL DAIRYMEN FAVOR
PRESENT POOLING PLAN.Meeting on Friday at Utica Protested Against Alleged League Monopoly
— New Organization Chartered.

Opposition to the milk pooling plan
of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., took definite form last Friday, when farmers from many sections of New York assembled at Hotel Utica and organized a nonpooling association.

The new organization, according to its supporters, has for its purpose and aim the protection of the interests of the farmers who do not care to avail themselves of the pooling plan services. The charter is signed by Superior Court Justice Alverson of Watertown.

Business methods and practices, the pooling contract and in fact the entire system of the pooling plan were played. Allegations against the Cooperative association drew thick and fast. The association was characterized as a closed corporation and one farmer stated that more than 40,000 farmers are being led to believe they are members, when in reality they are nothing more than producers who have appointed the association their selling agent and are not once referred to as members in their contracts.

William S. Rhodes of Little Falls
presided. The papers of incorporation, drawn by Willard R. Pratt of Utica, as attorney for the committee,
were read and unanimously adopted.

The objects of the new corporation
are defined as: to acquire, own, control, manage, operate, lease, sell, or profit, but acting as agent for its members for the marketing, handling, utilization or sale of agricultural, dairy and horticultural interests of its members and to protect its members and the consumers of milk against monopoly or any unlawful combination or act of any kind or nature whereby the rights of said members or others are unlawfully affected. The main office will be in Utica.

It was claimed at the meeting that the plan of the Utica organization for pooling of milk products is fundamentally unsound and undemocratic in principle as well as impracticable in execution. This contention several speakers stated, was borne out by the fact that the ultimate outcome of the project would be that the pooling organization, operated at a profit, sufficient to buy and control all the local plants in the district, would eventually own all of the plants now owned by producers and dealers, and that they would control the same while the bulk of the producers whose money had furnished means for creating the association, not being members thereof,
would have no voice in their control.
The present movement is the outgrowth of alleged attempts of the pooling organization to force all milk producers to sign their contract. The movement started with a meeting of the patrons of the Jetter Dairy company of Orleans, June 12. This meeting followed a statement, Mar.
21, from the Cooperative association
that all producers who did not sign their contract until later would be penalized.

Another meeting was held at the court house in Utica, August 24, at which a resolution criticizing the pooling plan and commending the old Dairymen's League, Inc., was unanimously adopted.

WINTER PROJECTS IN OTSEGO.

Otsego Junior Workers Have Additional Opportunities Offered.

With the closing up of a year's work in Junior Projects, says Doctor
Smith of the Otsego Junior Project work, there comes the beginning of additional opportunities for many boys and girls. Those that have completed their work the past year may go on with the advanced outline for that project. Others wishing to take up new work may do so with the en-treatments that are being taken throughout the county.

The projects that may be started
now or continued are the calf, pig,
sheep, poultry, sewing and foods.
Regular spring projects of gardens,
potato, etc., will be announced later.
All teachers have the full requirements for the projects mentioned.
Children in school and boys and girls
out of school may enroll in the project
if they desire. Home-making work requires a club of at least five members unless otherwise arranged. Sewing clubs finishing either group A, or group B work will go on with either group B or group C work.

Quite a number of schools that plan
to have hot school lunches this winter contemplate carrying out the foods project. This gives an excellent opportunity to have something hot each cold day for the children, as prepared by them and outlined plan to follow. Doing this on a community or district basis receives the needed help of the parents in the district. Parents are urged to encourage their children if they desire that they carry out any of these projects. A little will mean a great deal as to the success they will have with the project.

STATE INCOME TAX MONEY

State Commission Notifies Supervisors Regarding Distribution to Schools.

Albany, Oct. 26.—By today each of the supervisors of Otsego county will have received from the State Tax commission a communication calling attention to the fact that one-third of the share of each town in the $5,384, 219.78 personal income tax collections
is to be distributed by the commission this fiscal year to the counties of the state outside of New York city should have been distributed, under the law,
to the several school districts in each town. This distribution to the school districts is to be made in accordance with the provisions of an amendment to the tax law made at the last session of the legislature and is based on the assessed valuation of the real property in each district.

In its letter to the supervisors of the counties, the Tax commission says:

"While it is assumed that the duty of this commission with respect to the distribution of these monies ceases
upon their payment to the county treasurers, it has been deemed advisable to bring to the attention of supervisors an amendment to this section of the law controlling the distribution by them of monies in their towns.

"In the distributions of these revenues which you received as the own's share of the collection on July 1, 1921, there was not observed the requirements as to the payment of the specified sums to the school districts therein it would seem proper to make any adjustment to conform to this amended section at the time
you are distributing the moneys received under the allotment from the county treasurer on October 1."

Studebaker

This is a Studebaker Year

For the first eight months of 1921, our sales of Studebaker Cars were 41% greater than for the same period of 1920, and 101% greater than for the same period of 1919. For the same period, our sales of Repair Parts were 13% less than in 1920, and 3% less than in 1919.

On September 1st, 1921, there were approximately 116,000 more Studebaker Cars in operation than two years ago, and yet our parts business is 3% less than it was in 1919. This proves conclusively that—

Studebaker Cars are standing up in service

ASK MOVIE ACTOR TO GET RID OF HIS LEGS

An actor will cheerfully cut off his beard or shave his head if it's needed in his role. They asked Lon Chaney, who has the part of "The Penalty" in "The Penalty," the pictureization of Gouverneur Morris startling story, to get rid of his legs.

He did it. He is legless in the picture, slumping around with the agility of a permanent cripple. Perhaps the physical suffering involved helps him in effecting the demonic souls that are necessary to his part, or he is as thorough-going human fiend as can be found in fact or fiction.
In order effectually to disguise
his lower body, completely hiding his legs from the knees, it was necessary for him to have his legs strapped back, so that he walked on his knee pads.
So severe was the strain that he could endure the torture of the vice-like harness not more than twelve minutes at a time. He had to get his legs out, restore circulation and submit to more suffering time after time.

It is a tribute to his wonderful ability that so difficult a role could be so convincingly enacted out. "The Penalty" will be the attraction at The Oneonta Theatre tonight and tomorrow night. Two shows daily, 7 and 9 p. m.

WANDERERS VERSUS CO. G

Team to Represent City on Basketball Court Against Strong Company G Quietly Nov. 6. Wanderers Displaying Midseason Form—Will Oppose Strong Teams This Winter.

The Oneonta Wanderers, the basketball team which will represent the city on the court this winter, will open the season in an exhibition game with the Company G five at the armory November 8. It was announced by Manager Crouse yesterday. Both teams will be in the pink of condition by that time and should stage a hot contest. The Company G team has been practicing diligently for some time and is rapidly developing into a first class quintet.

The Wanderers will represent the city this season with the best team that has ever been developed locally. The aggregation of stars which Manager Crouse has rounded together has been practicing twice a week at the armory and has already displayed midseason smoothness and accuracy of play. Three new candidates have reported and are now trying out with the squad. James Perry, mainstay of high school teams of recent years, has returned to the city and has reported for practice. Leslie Slavin, who played with the all-army team at Fort Slocum while he was stationed there during the war, recently joined the squad. Howard Solloway, ex-high school star, is the third new candidate.

Manager Crouse is endeavoring to book games with the strongest amateur and semi-pro teams in the state. Arrangements are nearly completed for games with teams which have been in the basketball limelight for years. It is planned to book several college and preparatory school five. All in all, the outlook is decidedly favorable for the best basketball year that Oneonta has ever known.

Off For Adirondacks.

I. S. Dauley departed by motor car yesterday, accompanied by Dr. M. E. Nichols of Worcester, for a stay at the camp in which the men are interested at Oregon Pass in the Adirondacks, where they will do some deer hunting. Dr. Nichols will probably return after a few days and Mr. Dauley not unlikely will remain for a longer stay. Burton E. Swart, Lincoln R. Blyss and Fred Peck of Colliers departed on Monday for a sojourn at Mr. Swart's camp at Oregon Pass in the Adirondacks. They have intentions on several big buck that are reported to be frequenting that neck of the woods.

Getting Fired.

If teachers and preachers should talk as plain as I do, they would get fired. But this doesn't cut any ice with me, I'm in a game where there are no big salaries and where there is no undue gain for any one man or clique of men. Get an eye opener by reading yesterday's Oneonta Star, as to 35 indictments by the grand jury, for trying to get money illegally, and then turn to the I've safely made small amounts roll up to several million dollars, without the loss of a dollar placed with me. I'm still on the job, thus rolling up four million more and by teaching and helping little fellows to get money without cheating, stealing, etc., I keep you from paying bigger taxes as court fees and from keeping people in the poor house later. Can you see a hole in a ladder? I'm not going with your kick and drink. I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. advt. 11

CHEST REACHES $7,100 MARK

Leaders of Campaign Confident Goal Will Be Reached, But Urge More Energetic Work by Canvassers

With 211 subscriptions for a total of $2,795 reported up to yesterday noon, the Community Chest campaign workers made another forward step towards their goal. The hand on the big clock erected on Main street was moved forward to the $7,100 mark for a total of $65 subscriptions, and statistics collected at the campaign headquarters in the Community house, 17 Ford avenue, showed that the one-quarter milestone had been reached, both in the number of promoters reached and in contributions pledged.

Expressions of continued assurance in the eventual success of the Community Chest campaign and of the necessity for more work from team workers and more co-operation from prospective subscribers in being ready to fill out pledge cards the first time they are called upon to do so, were all members of the Community Chest committee, who held a meeting with the campaign majors last evening. While convinced of the necessity of tackling the big task at hand with more energy than has as yet been expended, the leaders of the campaign were unanimous in the belief that the goal will be reached by canvassing thoroughly every district.

Captain Morton Brownell's team continued to lead the workers in the percentage of its quota already secured, with Captain Charles J. Vandusen leading his co-workers in a fast pursuit to take the lead. Captain Harvey Westcott pushed ahead into third place among the men's teams yesterday as a result of the heavy response given to the appeal for the ten health and social welfare organizations of Oneonta by the employees in the Delaware and Hudson offices.

Among the women's teams, Mrs. R. W. Murdock and Miss Elizabeth Blakely, captains, tied for second place and are pushing Mrs. E. W. Elmore's team hard for first place. Mrs. Herbert C. Getman's workers likewise are making a good showing and promise to compete in pushing ahead in the lead.

A misunderstanding on the part of some citizens as to the designation of subscriptions on the pledge has caused the Chest committee to issue a statement that, regardless of the outcome, which they are confident will be successful, these allotments of subscriptions will be strictly followed out and the money designated will go to the organizations marked.

MOOSE INITIATE LADIES CLASS.

James J. Davis Memorial Campaign Needs Many Members.

At a very well attended meeting of Oneonta Lodge No. 858, Loyal Order of Moose, held at the Moose home on District street last evening, 25 candidates, comprising the second class of the James J. Davis Memorial campaign, were initiated into the mysteries of the order. The membership campaign now being waged about the country is intended as a testimonial of regard to James J. Davis, national secretary of labor and director general of Moose-vent, the order's splendid home in Illinois, and his result in large increase in membership in the Oneonta lodge.

Following the initiation talks were given by C. W. Southworth, T. E. Blanchard, L. D. Slade and A. W. Gibney. The latter, whose home is in Buffalo, is a regional official of the fraternity. The affair was greatly enjoyed by the large number of members present.

Another Davis' class initiation will be held next Wednesday evening.

THE BATTLE OF THE CENTURY

Dempsey-Carpenter Contest at Strand Theatre in Near Future—Pictures Show Every Detail of Historic International Boxing Match—Have Appeal to Every Class and Condition of Humanity.

Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion and Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion and athletic idol of Europe, are coming to Oneonta. Tex Richard, promoter of the Jersey City match of July 2, will also be on hand as will 30,000 people from every part of the United States, including 30,000 women of the governors of many states and people prominent in every walk of life.

The occasion will be the showing of the authentic Dempsey-Carpenter fight pictures at the Strand theatre. Manager Rose has booked the attraction but is not ready to announce the date, which will, however, be in the near future. The film was taken at the ringside under the direct supervision of Mr. Richard, more than 20 motion picture cameras being employed in securing the reproductions of every move of the two contestants from the time they entered the ring until the final blow was struck in the fourth round.

In addition to the contest itself, the pictures show the highlights of the daily training for months in advance and all the movements of the two principals up to the time they entered the ring. There are also interesting views of the enormous crowd and of the prominent people in attendance.

The Dempsey-Carpenter contest was more than a "fight." The largest gathering of notable people that ever witnessed an athletic contest in this country and the international interest aroused by the match made it a tremendous human drama—a drama pulsating twentieth century life. The motion pictures of the contest show every detail and have made a tremendous appeal wherever they have been shown. They have been screened in churches as a means of raising money for parish work and have been witnessed by people in every status and condition of life.

The "Battle of the Century" will be shown at the Strand in conjunction with a feature Talmadge picture. Announcement in regard to the date will be made later.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

An interesting meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. L. M. Westcott, 89 Elm street, yesterday afternoon. Plans were made for the observance in the Sunday schools of the city of World's Temperance day next Sunday. Mrs. Adla Borst was elected treasurer to succeed Mrs. Devel who resigned to take another department of work. Interesting reports were given by Mrs. Borst, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Frisbee and Mrs. Walker who were delegates at the state convention recently held in Rochester. Refreshments were served by the hostess. It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robinson, 98 River street.

Hit By Flying Bit of Steel.

Thomas Purcell of 41 Fairview street, D. & H. engineer, was slightly injured near the Foundry avenue crossing Tuesday evening when he was struck in the right eye by a piece of steel. He had been having trouble with the inspirator on his engine and had disconnected the pipe when the force of the water spurting out threw a chip of steel into his eye. He was relieved from duty and sent to his home, where he was attended by Dr. F. J. McManis. It is believed that no impairment of vision will result from the injury.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

Schedule Nearly Arranged—First Game Nov. 4—Outlook Bright For Winning Five.

The high school basketball schedule has been practically completed, it being known what teams will be played, although several of the dates have not yet been decided upon. The schedule will be nearly the same as last year and will include games with high school teams in Schenectady, Binghamton, Cobleskill, Unadilla, Sidney, Hobart, Lansingburg, Hartwick Seminary, Cooperstown and Roxbury. Sixteen or eighteen games will be played. Roxbury at Oneonta on November 4 will be the first contest.

A large squad is working out daily under the direction of Coach A. L. Riley and Captain Don Charles, and indications are that the school on Christian hill will be represented this year by a fast, aggressive quintet. The members of the squad have been examined by Health Officer Dr. G. A. Austin and have been pronounced physically fit for the strenuous season ahead of them. Numbered among the high school's opponents are several strongest school teams in the state, but it is the opinion of those familiar with the work of the local team that the Yellow and White will be carried to victory in the majority of the contests.

Normal Team Has Good Material.

The boys' team which will represent the Oneonta Normal school on the basketball court this season has some good material, and prospects point to an even more successful season than last winter, when the boys won a large number of their games. Daily practice is being held at the Normal gym and it is expected that the first game will be played the week of November 7 with St. Mary's five, a fast local team.

Interest in Guessing Contest.

The guessing contest on the number of seeds in a large 58 pound squash in the show window of the Floyd E. Taylor shoe store is attracting considerable attention. Over 400 guesses had been made up to last evening, the estimates running from 50 to 25,000 seeds. Anyone may leave a guess, whether or not a purchase is made.

Brannaman May Recover Value of New Battery He Kindly Loaned to Stranger Hastening to Attend Funeral in Binghamton.

W. O. Brannaman on the morning of Oct. 6th was called from his rooms at about 1 a. m. to assist a motorist who was traveling through the city and whose battery had given out. He was driving through he said to his home in Binghamton to attend the funeral of a near relative and that if he could secure the loan of a new battery to replace the one upon his car he would return it the following day. He gave the name of E. J. Shaw and his address as Binghamton. The battery was loaned.

Mr. Brannaman wisely took the number of the car and when neither the battery nor the man was seen Mr. Brannaman ascertained the name of the holder of the license to be Julius Higier of 145 Second avenue, Gloversville.

A letter addressed to Mr. Higier brought a reply from the chief of police of Gloversville stating that the car of Mr. Higier was stolen from the street in that city on the evening of September 18th. The letter of the Gloversville chief also states that the stolen car has been located in the city of Toledo, Ohio, and that it is expected that the arrest of the guilty party and the return of the car to its owner will follow. In this event Mr. Brannaman will of course recover his battery.

It is perhaps due Mr. Brannaman to state that he was suspicious of the stranger from the first but preferring to make a mistake in the direction he did rather than to refuse to assist another who might be telling the truth he loaned the battery.

Sounds foolish. It isn't. Some men think that a suit means simply a coat, vest and pair of trousers; they buy that way; pay as little as possible and get it.

But others know more and get more. A suit of clothes means months of service to them; style that keeps looking well; careful tailoring. They find those things in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; they save money.

THERE'S A TOUCH OF TOMORROW IN ALL COLE DOES TODAY

NEW PRICES effective TO-DAY

WITH the announcement of this new price of $2485.00, the Cole Motor Car Company sets a new motor car value standard—a value which has never been equaled. It is almost unbelievable that such a car as the Cole Aero-Eight, accepted throughout the industry and by its thousands of owners as one of the best engineered and finest finished cars in the world, should sell as low as $2485.00.

It has been the policy of this Company to pass on to the public immediately whatever cost reduction could be effected without deviating the slightest from the high standard of workmanship and materials which have been adhered to in the past. Due to readjustments in the cost of materials, we now find it possible to reduce the price of Cole Aero-Eight to a figure which makes it, unquestionably, the best possible investment in motor car value.

Nowhere else can you obtain a big, fine, roomy car that will give you 20,000 miles on a set of tires and 14 to 16 miles per gallon of gasoline.

STUDY WAYS TO BETTER LEATHER

Noted Chemists in Conference to Discuss Improved Processes of Tanning.

LOWER PRICES MAY RESULT

Plan to Hasten Tanning Process Without Sacrificing Quality—Prominent Foreign Chemists to Take Part in Meeting.

New York.—Shoe prices may trend downward as a result of new processes of tanning based on studies of electrical discharges and other unusual factors, which will be discussed by the leather chemistry section of the American Chemical society.

The notable progress made in American tanning has gained such recognition abroad that sessions of the section will be attended by the largest number of European leather chemists which has ever come at one time to the United States.

Some of these experts will also attend the meeting of the Society of Chemical Industry of Great Britain, which, after convening with its Canadian section, will cross the border to confer with its American branch and to hold a joint session with the American Chemical society.

The leather chemistry section of the American Chemical society will meet at Columbus university. At its session will be discussed revolutionary methods by which the tanning of hides can be hastened without the sacrifice of quality. The saving of time and the releasing of large sums of money from its investment in raw material thus would have the tendency to stabilize and, perhaps, eventually to lower leather prices, American chemists believe.

One of the marked influences in the sections will be that of Alfred Seymour-Jones, the first president of the International Association of Leather Trades Chemists. He is associated with Lord Allerton in forming the leather industries department of the University of Leeds, long reputed to be the greatest leather school in the world.

Foreign Chemists to Appear.

Another prominent figure in the leather industry of Great Britain, who will address the section, is Joseph Turney Wood. He is the discoverer of processes of tanning in which paracetic acid is used instead of the crude and obnoxious mixtures employed by the old-time tanners.

Mr. Wood was the first secretary of the Society of Leather Trades Chemists. Some of the noted foreign chemists whose papers will be read if they cannot appear in person are Prof. H. R. Procter, affectionately known as the father of leather chemistry, who was long identified with the University of Leeds; Dr. E. Schell of Havre, France, and Paul Enna of Copenhagen, Denmark.

How tanning as a science has advanced in recent years is shown by the fact that among those who are to address the leather chemistry section is Dr. Jacques Loeb, a noted American biologist connected with the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Original and novel methods of tanning based upon the studies of electricity will be described by John Arthur Wilson of Milwaukee, chairman of the leather chemistry section. His discoveries have been termed revolutionary. His researches have shown the reasons for the chemical changes which take place in the tanning process as distinguished from methods which rested merely upon ancient traditions.

Although tanning is one of the oldest arts in the world, it has not come under control of scientific research to the extent that many other industries have. It is expected that the papers of Mr. Wilson and of other leather chemists of the pioneer class will cause an earnest and heated discussion.

Studying Electrical Discharges. Closely associated with Mr. Wilson in his investigations is Prof. Arthur W. Thomas, who is making important studies of the relation of electrical discharges of materials used in tanning to the manufacture of leather. His laboratory is in Havemeyer hall, Columbus university, where the sessions of the leather chemistry section are to be held. In it is unique and costly equipment provided from a special fund given by a well-known Milwaukee tanner. The results of these researches are made available, however, for the entire tanning industry.

On a bench in this laboratory, occupying an area of a square yard, is what is reputed to be the smallest tannery in the world. With it complicated processes of tanning are perfectly conducted although on a small scale.

Women Fight Eagle, Save Tot. Homestead, Pa.—An eagle gave battle to Mrs. George Williams of this city and Mrs. B. Ruffing of Greensburg, when the two women attacked the big bird after it had seized Mrs. Williams' two-and-a-half-year-old daughter and was about to fly away with the child in its talons.

Mrs. Ruffing, armed with a club, came to the aid of Mrs. Williams, and the two, after several minutes of desperate battle, forced the bird to alight, though it hovered menacingly over them for some time. Barring deep scratches on her body, the child was uninjured.

Only Complete Set of Colonial Standard and is Discovered at Alexandria, Va.

Washington.—What is regarded as an important historic find has just been made in the discovery of the original set of standard weights and measures of Fairfax county in the Town hall at Alexandria, Va. The set is complete and consists of a yardstick, weights from 1 to 100 pounds and measures of all capacities, both dry and wet. All are of solid brass and are inscribed "Fairfax County, 1744."

The implements have been in the Town hall for a long time, but it was only recently that they were cleaned and the inscriptions discovered.

An expert from the Department of Agriculture who examined the set states that they are the only complete set of colonial weights in the United States and as such are priceless. At the time they were made Alexandria was the county seat of Fairfax county. When Alexandria was ceded to the District of Columbia Fairfax County house was made the county seat.

Camper Beats Bear in Race to Cabin

Port Jervis, N. Y.—Joseph Strausser of this city had a close call from serving as the dinner of a large bear and her three cubs while camping near the Mongaup river. Strausser had left camp to go to a farm house half a mile away in the hills and was returning with a pail of milk when he heard a noise in the bushes. When he saw the bears smacking their chops and hurrying his way he started a sprint toward camp. He won the race, but lost his pail of milk. After barricading the cabin, Strausser and his party later hunted the bears with guns, but could find no trace of the animals.

PAJAMAS "NOBBY" ON STREET

Russ Officer's Garb Leads to Distribution of Garments to Refugees.

Constantinople, Turkey.—American Red Cross and army pajamas are being converted into jaunty street clothes here by ingenious Russian refugee soldiers and civilians.

Hugh S. Bird, treasurer of the Red Cross, when here on a visit of inspection, saw a spick-and-span monied Russian officer flourishing a cane and fanning himself with a straw hat at the local Red Cross office. He noticed that the man had taken a suit of pajamas, sewed shoulder strap braid on them, strapped his officer's belt about them and rolled up the bottoms to give a trouser effect.

Mr. Bird thought so well of the ingenuity of the man, who had defeated the hot weather, that he gave orders for several thousand more pajamas to be distributed, so no Russian need wear his heavy, shabby winter clothes.

Monoplane Invented by Italian Engineer Said to Need Little Landing Space.

Rome, Italy.—An airplane capable of landing without the need of a large aviation field, able to travel more than 300 miles an hour and, if necessary, to maneuver along at only a few miles an hour is announced as the invention of an Italian engineer, Epaminonda Bertucci of Rome.

The inventor reports that he has already tried out the machine on a small scale and regards his first experiments as indicative of the success of the invention. The new machine is primarily intended for aerial war chasing and is to be armed with a machine gun. It is a monoplane.

The only phonograph which sustains the test of direct comparison. Bambooschek, principal conductor at the Metropolitan Opera, recently heard such a comparison. He said "The quality of Miss Muzio's voice and the quality of its RE-CREATION by the New Edison are identical." This explains why the New Edison can bring the full benefits of music.
